McKeon Verdict Awaited

Fate of Instructor Goes to Courtmartial After Both Sides Sum Up Arguments

PARRIS ISLAND, S. C. (AP)—The fate of Marine S. Sgt. Matthew C. McKeon was submitted to a court-martial of six Marines and a Navy doctor at 12:37 p.m. today.

Thus the trial of the 31-year-old former drill instructor, which has attracted nationwide attention, neared a close in its 19th day.

McKeon's fate will be decided in the closely guarded classroom of the white frame grammar school at this training center.

In its course, the trial made Marine history when seven stars worth of general came to the defense of the four-stripe sergeant.

One general was the commandant, Randolph McC. Pate. The other was a crusty Marine hero, Lt. Gen. Lewis B. (Chesty) Puller, who was called out of retirement.

McKeon is charged with involuntary manslaughter, oppression of recruits and drinking on duty and in the presence of a recruit. If convicted on all counts, he could receive a maximum sentence of six years at hard labor and a dishonorable discharge.

The charges stemmed from a night disciplinary march, led by McKeon, of 74 recruits into the tide-swept Ribbon Creek marsh here April 8, where six drowned.

The trial judge, Navy Capt. Irving N. Klein of New York City, instructed the panel on points of law this morning.

The final summations were brief, requiring only 41 minutes.

Maj. Charles B. Sevier of Jacksonville, Ill., prosecutor, held that McKeon was "just mad" when he led the recruits into the water.

Defense attorney Emile Zola Berman of New York City argued that the tragedy was the "result of panic and not lawlessness."

In making his plea for acquittal, Berman also contended McKeon would never have been brought to trial had it not been for "politics in high places—yes, even the halls of Congress—and mistakes in handling this matter."

The thin, balding, hawk-nosed attorney referred to the outcry in Congress immediately after the April 8 tragedy for an investigation of Marine training methods and the statement by Gen. Randolph McCall Pate, Marine commandant, that the Marine Corps itself was at fault.

Both the defense and prosecution arguments required only 41 minutes.

Berman contended that McKeon was "teaching discipline" in the highest traditions of the military service when he ordered the recruits out for the night march.

Further, he held that McKeon, at the head of the column, was not negligent because he was showing the way, step by step.

Berman admitted McKeon was "technically guilty" of one of the drinking charges—possessing alcohol in barracks.

Union and Steel Co. To Sign Contract

NEW YORK (AP)—The United Steelworkers of America union announced today it would sign a contract with the U.S. Steel Corp. tonight.

A union spokesman said he didn't know immediately whether the contract would be signed today.

Crucible Steel, a major producer, signed last night and later David J. McDonald, union president, commented that "tomorrow (Friday) will be a big day."

Bethlehem Steel, second largest producer, resumed negotiations today, after reporting much progress yesterday.

Reports Red Chinese Dig Into Burma

KUNLONG FERRY, Northern Burma (AP)—Communist Chinese troops occupying the territory in northern Burma today were reported digging in after several clashes with Burmese army units.

Reports from the area about 120 miles east of Lashio said the Reds were hacking out jungle paths leading into rugged mountain areas peopled by headhunting tribes.

Burmese army intelligence accounts said Communist forces were feverishly building roads and approaches toward Burma from the Yunnan area, on the Chinese side of the border.

Col. Chit Myaing, a Burmese army commander, reported several engagements with Chinese invaders, including one six-hour battle. He said one Chinese officer and nine soldiers were killed in the major clash and several were captured. Three Burmese soldiers were reported wounded.

Officials announced Tuesday that Red Chinese forces, believed numbering about 500 men, had moved across the poorly defined border into Burmese territory. Minor patrol incidents have been reported previously in the region, but spokesmen said the move this week involved far larger numbers of troops.

No mention of the move has been heard in Communist Chinese radio broadcasts.

Burmese political quarters said the government is pressing Red China for speedy withdrawal of the invaders.

Motorist Testifies On Air Crash

She Saw Smoke And Object Fall From Stormy Sky

WASHINGTON (AP)—A woman motoring near the scene of the Grand Canyon airliner collision told government investigators today she saw smoke and an object fall from the stormy sky at about the hour of the disaster.

Mrs. Blanche England of Clarksburg, W. Va., appeared as the third surprise "eyewitness" in the Civil Aeronautics Board investigation of the crash of a Trans World Airlines Constellation and a United Airlines DC7 which killed 128 persons.

Mrs. England said that she and her husband, Walker J. England, were driving west of Winslow, Ariz., before noon on June 30.

She said that in the direction of Grand Canyon a storm was developing, with some lightning. As she watched the storm clouds, Mrs. England said:

"All at once I saw a great puff of smoke, something came out of the sky like a parachute.

"Then something came down, with smoke following after it."

Mrs. England said the "big puff of smoke" she observed appeared to be just above a very dark cloud.

Mrs. England said the object she saw "didn't come straight down; it came down on sort of an angle."

The smoke, she said, "spread out just like a big parachute opening up."

Mrs. England testified that she watched for a good five minutes—maybe more—then the smoke began to disappear in the sky.

Proceeding her on the witness stand was her husband.

England said he was driving the car at the time and did not see the smoke and object which his wife described.

Commission Okays Three Low Bids On Routes 66, 40

JEFFERSON CITY (AP)—Three Missouri projects costing more than 4 million dollars are the first in the nation to be contracted under the new 13-year federal highway program.

The State Highway commission approved low bids on the projects yesterday. S. W. O'Brien, district engineer for the Bureau of Public Roads, confirmed that they were the first in the nation to go under contract.

One project on interstate U. S. 66 in Laclede County calls for 13.3 miles of 24-foot concrete pavement from the east end of the Lebanon relocation to Hazelgreen. Koss Construction Co. of Des Moines had the low bid of $1,058,389.

The W. J. Menefee Construction Co., Sedalia, has the sub-contract on the U. S. 66 improvement in the approximate amount of $175,000 for furnishing and placing base material, and final grading.

A St. Louis improvement is on the Mark Twain Expressway, interstate Route 40, between Locust and O'Fallon streets. It covers .6 of a mile of grading, retaining walls, bridge substructure and concrete pavement. Fred Weber, contractor, and I. E. Millstone Construction Co., both of St. Louis, had the joint low bid of $1,526,360.

The third project is in St. Charles County. It includes 2.6 miles of bridging, grading and two 24-foot concrete pavements on interstate 40 between Cole Creek and a new Missouri River bridge upstream from St. Charles, plus a half mile of grading and 48-foot pavement on the Fifth Street connection to the Mark Twain Expressway at St. Charles.

Cameron-Joyce and Co. of Keokuk, Ia., had the low bid of $1,513,899.

Chamber Requests No More Rooms Be Listed for Fair

The Chamber of Commerce is asking that no more rooms be listed for the Missouri State Fair. Between 300 and 400 rooms have been listed and requests for rooms this year seem to be less than usual.

When requests come in to the Chamber of Commerce a form is sent the inquirers to fill out which will give the information of how many people, what accommodations they want, prices, the number of days they expect to stay, and various other things, then the Chamber of Commerce checks the list to find a room that meets the needs of the inquirer giving always the preference of the first listings in the type of rooms requested. Then the person listed who has rooms meeting the requirement is contacted to see if he will take the person wanting the room after which the inquirer is notified and asked to send a deposit to hold the room. There is no preference given to anybody except by the order the listings are received in the office.

Three Prisoners Smash Others Legs In Work Protest

REIDSVILLE, Ga. (AP)—A legislative investigating committee today began interviewing 41 convicts who broke or damaged their legs with sledge hammers in protest against working conditions and alleged brutality at Georgia's Rock Quarry Prison for incorrigibles.

The injured were brought to the state's Central Prison here for treatment. Seven suffered deep gashes or bruises; the other 34 had broken bones.

A convict who witnessed the bone breaking told the committee at a hearing yesterday in the Rock Quarry Prison near Buford that three white convicts "went down the line" smashing legs of other white prisoners.

Earlier, it had been reported that each convict broke his own leg by smashing the sharp edge of the heavy hammers down on them.

A Negro convict who testified he saw the mass mutilation identified the three white inmates as Willie McSwain, Junior Powell and Odell Evans. He said the three broke each other's legs after they had smashed those of the others.

He said Jesse Lee Stark swung the hammer on the legs of his fellow Negro convicts and then broke his own leg.

The witness said the men "just hollered out a little bit and sort of turned to one side" as their legs were smashed. They were out of sight of guards.

One Negro, testifying on conditions at the prison, said that "about half of the prisoners are stoolpigeons" but that the stoolpigeons get about the same general treatment as the others.

Two white convicts said the food was good and offered no complaints concerning their own treatment. They said, however, the work is hard and that there was some mistreatment by guards. They accused guards of using profanity and beating prisoners with sticks.

Doyal Smith, 6-foot-1, 250-pound guard, who was accused by a convict of beating one inmate, told the committee he had once struck a Negro, described as a "bully and trouble-maker."

Smith said the convicts are hardened characters and would seize control of the rock pit if they could. He said he believed the mutilation plot was planned to upset discipline and make it appear that brutality existed in an effort to get regulations relaxed.

Asked if he had considered, in starting his "Dump Nixon" campaign, that President Eisenhower might die, Stassen said he was acting on the belief that Eisenhower "will continue to give magnificent leadership to the country for 10 years or more," even after another term in office.

At a 50-minute news conference, Stassen also said he felt Gov.

Dulles, who is on leave of absence as President Eisenhower's disarmament aide, refused to answer many questions as to why he contends Vice President Richard Nixon would "detract" from the Republican ticket if renominated.

But he said a private poll indicated the most serious detractor would be among voters in California and the West Coast where Nixon was best known. He referred to a poll which he has said showed an Eisenhower-Nixon ticket would run 6 per cent behind an Eisenhower-Herter ticket, not to a new poll now being taken.

Asked how he was financing the Eisenhower-Herter headquarters here, Stassen replied that voluntary contributions are "now flowing in." He said $1,730 had been received from a wide range of individuals and in view of these funds he would be able to open a small Eisenhower-Herter headquarters at San Francisco for the convention.

Stassen said it was his job to stand steady now while the convention delegates and the people think about the issue of the vice presidency.

Asked if he had considered, in starting his "Dump Nixon" campaign, that President Eisenhower might die, Stassen said he was acting on the belief that Eisenhower "will continue to give magnificent leadership to the country for 10 years or more," even after another term in office.

State Legislature Count So Far; 24 Demos, 13 GOPs---

Republicans Bank on Popularity of Ike To Swing Balance to Them in November

JEFFERSON CITY (AP)—Nineteen Missouri House of Representatives seats already have been filled in advance of next Tuesday's primary election.

Ten Democrats and nine Republicans have neither primary nor general election opposition. That automatically fills 19 of the 137 seats.

In addition, Democratic primary fights will settle the representation from 14 counties or districts. In those areas two or more Democrats filed for the primary but no Republican filed.

There are four more counties or districts where the Republican primary will end the battle since no Democrat filed.

That accounts for a total of 24 Democratic and 13 Republican seats and would, on the surface, give the Democrats an edge in the tussle for House control.

But the Republicans are banking on Eisenhower popularity to bring out more GOP votes and swing the balance toward them in November.

The House of Representatives in Missouri can swing easily from one party to the other. For instance, the Republicans controlled the House in the 1945, 1947 and 1953 sessions. The Democrats held the reins in 1949, 1951 and 1955. Representation from 120 counties or districts won't be decided until the general election.

Here are the Democratic candidates who are elected automatically because they have no primary or general election opposition. All are incumbents:

Robert H. Frost of Clinton County, Luna Butler of Gentry County, S. E. Twomey of Iron County, Roy Hamlin of Marion County, Warren E. Hearnes of Mississippi County, Charles Sloan of Ray County, William M. Turpin of Pike County, Eugene Poe of Schuyler County, Wesley McMurry of Scotland County and John F. Winchester of Stoddard County.

Republicans elected without primary or general election opposition: Rep. Charles Schindler of Andrew County, Rep. Fred McMahon of Atchison County, Rep. Earl S. Cook of Grundy County, Rep. J. L. Wright of Hickory County, Rep. Russell Corn of Howell County, Edward G. Farmer Jr. of Jasper County's third district, Rep. Marple S. Wyckoff of Putnam County, Rep. Martin P. Degenhardt of Perry County and Rep. James Clifford Crouch of Taney County.

In 14 counties there is no Republican candidate but two or more Democrats are seeking the nomination in next Tuesday's primary. In four counties the Republicans will settle the issue in the primary, with no general election fight.

The Democratic counties are Callaway, Clay, Dent, Dunklin, Howard, Maries, Monroe, Oregon, Pemiscot, Platte, Pulaski, Reynolds, Scott and Shannon.

The Republican counties are Christian, Douglas, Gasconade and Mercer.

In these 50 counties or districts there are no primary election fights for the Legislature but battles are ahead for November: Adair, Audrain, Bates, Benton, Boone, Buchanan's second district, Carter, Cedar, Clark, Cooper, Crawford, Dallas, Daviess, Greene's first and second districts, Harrison, Holt, Jackson's fifth and seventh districts, Jasper's first and second districts, Johnson, Linn, Livingston, Macon, Madison, Montgomery, Pettis, Ripley, St. Charles, St. Louis county's fifth, eighth and ninth districts, Stone, Sullivan, Vernon, Washington, Wayne, Webster, Worth and St. Louis city's eighth, ninth, 10th, 12th, 14th and 15th districts.

Usually observers figure that incumbent representatives have some edge over opponents in the general election—provided they didn't stumble badly in the most recent legislative session.

In the general election races already established there are 20 Republican incumbents and 20 Democratic incumbents. The other 10 races pit new candidates against each other.

Ritzenthaler Gives Preview Of State Fair

A verbal preview of what will be seen at the Missouri State Fair in Sedalia August 18-26 was given by Fair Secretary W. H. Ritzenthaler before the Sedalia Kiwanis Club meeting in Bothwell Hotel Thursday noon.

On the 276 acres with 60 permanent buildings, construction of a new cattle shed to eliminate congested conditions that have hampered exhibitors, is a new addition costing $19,000. There are also new additions to the sheep building.

The improvement program this year includes a new race horse barn, new lighting and electrical outlets which under old installations had become fire hazards, considerable painting and carpenter work.

Ritzenthaler reported there would be running races Tuesday through Friday and that the track races ought to bring many entries. Considerable attention has been given this feature since Missouri's Fair lost out on the Grand Circuit entry last year. Automobile and motorcycle races will also be featured. An enlarged main stage with an overall size of 62 by 110 feet will adequately accommodate a spectacular skating revue, "Holiday on Ice," something new for the entertainment program in front of the grand stand.

The speaker was introduced by Program Chairman Henry Salveter.

The club approved having 16 madrigal singers and entertainers from Missouri Valley College, Marshall, appear for the Christmas party in Bothwell Hotel Wednesday night, Dec. 12.

Invocation was by the Rev. Edward R. Sims. Singing was led by William Ward with Miss Lillian Fox as accompanist. Birthday songs were sung for Mike Gioris and Dan Robinson.

Guests were: Midshipman Robert Morgan, Annapolis, with his father, Arthur J. Morgan; H. W. Carter, Detroit, with his brother, C. L. Carter; D. O. Williams, Stockton, Ill., with his cousin, Clarence Evans, David Bohling, Florence, Ala., with his stepfather, John M. Speed, and Kiwanian Morris J. Lent, Boonville.

Tractors are a leading cause of deaths on Missouri farms. This need not be so say members of the Missouri Rural Safety Council for tractors can be operated safely.

The picture above shows what can happen if a post is chained to the rear wheels of a tractor in an attempt to free it when stuck in a ditch or mud. The tractor is owned by the Safety Council and has been especially equipped for demonstrations of this sort.

Hold at Grandstand--

Future Farmers Sponsor New Farm Safety Program Aug. 9

A tractor safety demonstration as shown in the picture will be one of the highlights of a farm safety program sponsored by the California FFA Chapter at the Montauk County Fair Thursday, Aug. 9, at 2 p.m. The safety program will be held in front of the grandstand and will last for about two hours. There are five parts to the program which include the tractor safety demonstration by Clarence Stevens of the Missouri College of Agriculture; a home fire prevention program by Charles Roberts of St. Joseph; a fire safety demonstration by the California rural fire department under the direction of Louis Mills, fire chief; ladder safety demonstration; and a highway safety talk and demonstration by Sgt. F. W. Shadwell of the Missouri State Highway Patrol.

The tractor safety demonstration will feature a remote controlled tractor which will be operated by Stevens who will be standing to one side. The results of unsafe practices as chaining a post to the rear wheels of a tractor when stuck or hitching to the rear axle, and so on, will be shown. The tractor is equipped with special bars so it can be turned over or upside down. This part of the program has been a feature at several fairs previously including the Missouri State Fair.

The two fire prevention demonstrations will stress methods of preventing fires and also what to do in case of fire. A small frame building will be erected in the arena in front of the grandstand and set on fire. The rural fire department will demonstrate their equipment in extinguishing fires as well as small fire extinguishers an individual could use before the fire truck arrived. Practices to follow in using these will also be stressed.

Because falls account for about 22 per cent of the farm accidents and the improper use of ladders cause a lot of these, the ladder demonstration will stress safe practices in using a ladder.

Sgt. F. W. Shadwell, director of public information for the Missouri State Highway Patrol, will discuss and demonstrate farm safety while on the highways.

Everyone is invited to attend this program and observe the demonstrations.

At the conclusion of the program, several members of the California FFA Chapter will distribute, free of charge, red flags for using on equipment on the highway, a check list of common farm hazards, and red tags to attach at danger spots.

The entire program is aimed at lowering the number of farm deaths and accidents that are happening at the present time and is presented through demonstrations to make it more interesting.

Sunday School Lesson Notes:

By WILLIAM E. GILROY, D.D.

The history of religion among the Jews, which produced the Bible, the Old Testament in its entirety, and the New Testament in its beginnings, is the story of the search for God, the truth concerning man himself, his relationships with his fellowmen, his responsibilities and destiny in a world of right and wrong, and all the mysteries of life, suffering, and death.

That search covered a long period of years and it might be said that men groped their way toward the highest truth.

Revelation did not come all at once. The Bible in its many books offers the surest evidence that, as the Bible itself says, "holy men of God spoke as they were moved by the Holy Ghost" (II Peter 1:21).

But the Bible, also, gives little evidence of a view once prevalent, and still widely held by some, that the Bible writers were simply supine figures, holding the pen while God wrote.

The evidence is of the Bible growing out of human experience. The writers of the Bible had to experience it, before they could write it. The experience began, as the Bible itself shows, in a dim apprehension of the nature of God—far removed from the vision of God in the face of Jesus Christ—or from the vision of the great Hebrew prophets, of God as the God of the whole world, and of Israel as chosen people in whom all nations were to be blessed (Isaiah 60).

That early vision was very much that of a tribal God. Not an idol, but a Being whose chief concern was with the Jewish people.

As I have recently pointed out, "kill," did not prevent the slaughter of their enemies by the Jews; not even the killing of the women and little children (Deuteronomy 2:34). It was a limited view of God.

No view of the Bible is true to the Bible itself that does not take into account the factor of progressive revelation, or progress in the search for God and the knowledge of Him.

Trinity Lutheran Council to Meet

The Rev. David M. Funk will take as his subject, "Your Life: Profit or Loss . . . Which?" for the Sunday morning service at the Trinity Lutheran Church. Special music will be presented by the choir under the direction of Leonard Englund.

Tuesday, the church council will meet with Mr. and Mrs. Clinton J. Muller, 615 West Broadway, at 8 p. m.

The day circle of the ULCW will meet at the church Thursday at 1:30 p. m. with Mrs. Lind as hostess.

Baptist Group Will Attend Conference

A group of about 12 people from the First Baptist Church will go to the Hollister Hill Baptist Assembly at Hollister on Monday, Aug. 6. This is Training Union Week at Hollister Hill and large numbers of Training Union people are expected from over the state.

On Friday and Saturday, August 10th and 11th the Brotherhood's of Harmony Association will have a retreat at the Assembly Grounds near Rocky Mount, Missouri. This has come to be an annual meeting for the men of Harmony Baptist Association and other Associations.

Tuesday and Wednesday of this week the Harmony Baptist Association will meet in Annual Session with the Memorial Baptist Church. The Annual Report of the First Baptist Church will be read and approved at the evening services at the church on Sunday. The messengers of the church to the Association will also be elected on Sunday evening. The Church is entitled to 12 messengers to the Association.

August 8 the teachers will meet at 7:15 p. m. and this will be followed by the monthly business meeting of the Church. There are several important items of business to be considered in preparation for the new associational year and a good representation of the church is expected to be present.

The subject of the pastor's sermons at the First Baptist Church on Sunday will be "Are These the Lord's Doings" for the morning service and "Christ Is Lord" for the evening service. At the morning service the choir will sing "Lord of My Life" with Kenneth Williams as soloist and Jackson Way will be soloist in the evening service.

Methodist Bishop — Eugene M. Frank, new Bishop of the Methodist Church's Missouri Area, succeeds Bishop Ivan Lee Holt as the spiritual leader of the denomination's 253,550 members in that state.

Formerly minister of the First Methodist Church, Topeka, the 48-year-old Bishop will administer the work of Missouri Methodism from offices in Century Church in St. Louis.

Wednesday evening members of the church will gather at 7:30 p. m. for the regular monthly business meeting.

Several of the men from the church will be attending the Brotherhood Retreat to be held at Rocky Mount, Aug. 10 and 11. A program packed with inspiration has been planned.

The title of the pastor's message for Sunday morning will be, "A Wonderful Young Man—Lost." Sunday evening he will be preaching from the theme, "Repenting When It Is Too Late."

Those not now attending church elsewhere are cordially invited to come and worship at the East Sedalia Baptist Church. There is a class for every age in the Sunday School and a department for every age in the Training Union.

Summer Weather Holds Over West, Northeast Today

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Pleasant summer weather prevailed today over most of the Northeast and the Far West but scattered showers were in prospect for other sections of the country.

Skies were clear and temperatures in the 50s and 60s in the northern and central Atlantic Coast states and the eastern half of the Ohio Valley. Readings were about 5 degrees lower than 24 hours earlier.

There was a general warming trend in the central part of the country from the western Great Lakes region through the upper and middle Mississippi Valley and the northern and central plains. Early morning readings ranged from the 60s in the North to the 80s in the South.

Denver got another heavy rainfall yesterday, the fifth in five days. Nearly 2 inches of rain fell in some places, flooding streets and buildings and forcing families to evacuate homes. Denver City officials have estimated total damage at five million dollars.

It was warm and humid along the Gulf Coast with a flow of warm air northward into the plains.

Scattered showers fell during the night in the central and northern plains and eastward to the Mississippi Valley and westward through Montana and Oregon. Nearly 2 1/2 inches of rain fell in six hours at Huron, S.D., with a 24-hour fall measuring 3.98 inches.

Red squirrels voluntarily swim streams and lakes, including such waters as Lake George and the broadest parts of Lake Champlain.

Expects New Attempt By Negotiators

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Federal negotiators are expected to make an attempt soon to revive contract negotiations in the three-day strike of 28,000 members of the United Steelworkers against Aluminum Co. of America and Reynolds Metals Co.

Union and company spokesmen say they are ready to resume contract negotiations but neither side has contacted the other.

In Washington, Joseph Finnegan, director of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service, said last night, "We probably will be in on it."

Separate contract talks between the union and Alcoa and Reynolds broke off early Wednesday in a dispute over wages and other contract terms. The union set up picket lines at 12 Alcoa and 9 Reynolds plants.

USW represents 18,000 workers at Alcoa and 10,000 at Reynolds. USW officials said a contract negotiated between Alcoa and the Aluminum Workers International Union was not a basis for settlement of their disputes.

Alcoa and Reynolds offered the USW a three-year contract which they said is similar to the one accepted on a memorandum of agreement last week by the union and the basic steel industry.

The agreement is reported to call for a package increase of between 45 and 55 cents an hour in the next three years.

The USW has not revealed publicly exactly what it wants in the way of a wage increase from the aluminum industry. Union demands include layoff pay plan provisions and other contract changes.

The AWIU-Alcoa agreement is a three-year, no-strike contract calling for a 46-cent hourly package over the three years. It covers 15,000 workers at nine Alcoa plants.

Meanwhile, the AWIU is conducting negotiations at Richmond, Va., for 6,500 workers at 10 Reynolds plants.

Midshipman Leaps At Chance to Get Home

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP)—Midshipman Edward K. Stone, impatient to get ashore after a summer cruise to Europe, leaped at the chance.

But after leaping he had to swim a mile and a half.

A Naval Academy spokesman said Stone jumped overboard from the destroyer Rowe as it lay at anchor just off Annapolis. He and the other midshipmen had been scheduled to debark the next morning. He turned himself in at the academy later.

The academy spokesman, saying Stone apparently acted on a dare, added disciplinary action hinged on medical reports from Bethesda Naval Hospital. Stone was taken to the hospital for observation.

Refuses Bullfight Halt; No Weapons

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—A judge has refused to stop a weaponless bullfight, saying the definition of what would worry a bull was a "64,000 question."

Superior Judge William A. Glen had been asked by the Humane Society to stop the event scheduled for Aug. 18 in municipal Balboa Stadium on the ground that just worrying a bull for exhibition was against state law.

The event has been billed by promoters as a "bloodless" exhibition, with fighters and bulls coming from Mexico.

GRAVE OF THE ANDREA DORIA: Lifeboats and foam mark big Italian liner's final plunge.

Disaster Fund for 'Unsinkables' Shares Grief Over Italian Liner 'Andrea Doria'

By TOM A. CULLEN
NEA Staff Correspondent

LONDON (NEA) — An imaginary funeral wreath for the "unsinkable" liner Andrea Doria, which lies on the bottom off Nantucket Shoals, hangs on the door of the National Disasters Relief Fund in London.

For 40 years the fund, which is probably unique in the world, has been paying compensation to the widows and orphans of "unsinkable" ships: the Titanic, 1,498 lives lost; the Lusitania and the Empress of Ireland, whose losses were 1,205 and 1,015 lives.

Last year the fund paid out $36,400 to 83 relatives of Titanic victims — all that are still living of the original 1,247 relatives who filed claims. Compensation will be paid at the rate of approximately $50 a month, plus special grants at Christmas, Easter and during the summer holidays, until the last of the 83 is dead. Sixty-seven of them are widows.

The fund was set up in 1912, after the sinking of the Titanic, to help the families of victims. It has since paid out more than $1 million in compensation.

Eight widows and orphans of the Lusitania disaster, all that remain of the original 440 who filed claims, will enjoy incomes from annuities purchased from the fund for the rest of their lives.

"Titanic" — "Lusitania" — the names are merely neat rows of figures in the ledger books of the National Disasters Relief Fund. But they continue to fire the imagination and to chill the blood of millions on both sides of the Atlantic. They are grim reminders of "what might have happened" in the sinking of the Andrea Doria.

Most of the 67 widows who are still receiving compensation from the Titanic disaster fund were the wives of crew members of the Titanic, or of second class passengers. Some of them were brides in their mid-20's when the Titanic sailed from Southampton in April, 1912 on its maiden voyage.

Today, these brides are white-haired widows in their 70's (the oldest widow receiving compensation is 91), and many of them eke out their Titanic grants with State pensions.

The one thing that the great sea disasters had in common was the unshakable belief that the ships involved were unsinkable. Not even God could sink the Titanic, the deck-hand assured the nervous lady as she stepped aboard at Southampton.

In the shocked silence that followed the news of the Titanic disaster, millions of Britons shelled out to help its victims. The shillings and sixpences poured in until $1,242,198 had been collected.

Later, the Lusitania and the Empress of Ireland relief funds were added to the Titanic fund to form the National Disasters Relief Fund for administrative purposes. The fund monies themselves are kept entirely separate, however.

Today, the Titanic fund still has $372,783 in hand, after having expended $2,269,788 in grants through the years. The original amount subscribed was nearly doubled through skillful investments. Single payment grants were made in 18 countries to relatives of Titanic victims in places as widely apart as Bulgaria and Brazil, Mexico and Syria.

The Lusitania was another "unsinkable" ship. "Don't lower the lifeboats," the Lusitania's captain shouted from the bridge. "The ship can't sink. She's all right."

The families of Lusitania crew members were compensated by the British government, but over 400 survivors and relatives of deceased passengers claimed benefits from the $75,000 Lusitania fund raised by public subscription. Recently, after paying out $160,887 in grants, the fund was wound up by the purchase of annuities for the eight Lusitania dependents still living.

One of the provisions of the disaster funds is that they must be expended during the lifetime of the beneficiaries. If a woman widowed by a ship disaster remarries she

Residents of Cielo Vista subdivision and parents of children attending Burges High School, near which the plane crashed, today took steps to see that the heroism of Lt. Cmdr. Robert L. Anderson of San Diego, Calif., is remembered.

Two telephones were in use today by call takers who were swamped with persons who want to affix their names to the memorial and to a letter to Anderson's widow.

Looses New Hit Declaring Demo President Loss

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Gov. Averell Harriman loosed a new blast last night at the kind of "moderation" embraced by Adlai Stevenson, declaring that it will lead to defeat for the Democrats in November.

The New York governor assailed President Eisenhower too, saying he had broken his 1952 promises and followed a middle-of-the-road path which Harriman termed "a roadblock to progress."

Among the Republicans, Harold E. Stassen said he will persevere in his campaign to have the GOP National Convention nominate Gov. Christian A. Herter of Massachusetts as Eisenhower's running mate.

Outwardly undaunted by Herter's statement that he will not consent to having his name placed before the convention, Stassen said his consistent position has been that Herter "must be drafted" as a replacement for Vice President Nixon.

Herter told a Boston news conference he will not consent to having his name put before the San Francisco convention in competition with "my friend Dick Nixon" since he has agreed to put Nixon's name in nomination.

Negro Leaders Pledge Boycott Continuance

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP)—Negro leaders pledged continuance of their bus boycott when the Cities Transit Co. resumed operations after a monthlong suspension.

The company, which had taken its buses off the streets because of financial losses suffered during the boycott, hired two Negro drivers for the first time in its history and assigned them to routes serving Negro sections.

Service was resumed yesterday on the same segregated basis in effect before the boycott, which was staged in an effort to obtain integrated seating.

"Our people voted in a large mass meeting that they will not be herded like cattle to the rear of a bus though driven by Negro drivers," said the Rev. C. K. Steele, president of the Negro Inter Civic Council, which sponsored the boycott.

He said only a few Negroes used the buses yesterday, declared these were mostly children and elderly persons and added

Walt Disney Issues Complete Denial In $415,000 Filed Suit

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A complete denial has been issued by Walt Disney to accusations made by actor Kirk Douglas in his $415,000 invasion of privacy suit against Disney.

Douglas' suit claimed that pictures taken of him and his family riding on Disney's miniature train later were shown on the Disneyland television program. He claimed the films were made during a social visit to Disney's home.

But Disney's statement said the occasion was not a private gathering and that Douglas was there "voluntarily and without any invitation."

"The entire appearance of Mr. Douglas on television was for 26 seconds," said Disney's statement, "and it is inconceivable that a man who has appeared so extensively in motion pictures, magazines and television could be damaged on a television screen in that amount of time."

Patterson, Studer Into Golf Finals

Meet for Country Club Title; Flight 'A' in Semifinals

Two former champions, Gentry Patterson and Herb Studer, swept into the finals of the Men's Golf Championship at the Sedalia Country Club Sunday in winning their respective 36-hole semifinals matches.

Patterson took the upper hand in the morning round of his match with Capt. John Herbst and held the lead the rest of the way. At the halfway mark Patterson held a 2-up cushion and retained the same edge through the 27th hole. However, a birdie on the 27th by Patterson began a drive which snuffed out Herbst quicker than the Captain had expected at that point. Patterson followed up his birdie with three more in succession on the first, second and third holes of the final round to leave Herbst gasping to the tune of six down and six holes remaining. Although Herbst won the fourth hole, Patterson halved him on the fifth to finish the match 5-and-4.

Studer took his victory over Bill Gillyuly with apparent ease by playing a sound game near par while Gillyuly was unable to match. Studer eliminated his opponent 7-and-6 while going only two strokes over par for the 30 holes.

Patterson and Studer will clash in the 36-hole battle for the championship this Sunday.

The "A" Flight men's tournament has advanced to the semifinals stage after matches the past week.

Will Explain New Pledge For Olympics

CHICAGO (AP)—Avery Brundage, president of the International Olympic Committee, has promised a statement by Sunday explaining the anti-pro pledge for Olympic contestants which left athletes and some officials bewildered.

Word of the newly contrived, controversial pledge which demands an athlete must swear he not only is an amateur but intends to remain an amateur came Wednesday out of Australia where it received wide publicity.

News of the statement immediately brought a "very firm" protest from K. L. (Tug) Wilson, president of the U. S. Olympic Assn.

The new rule requires all entries in the 1956 Olympics to sign the following pledge: "I, the undersigned, declare on my honor that I am and intend to remain an amateur and fulfill the conditions stipulated by the Olympic rules."

Brundage, a staunch supporter of pure amateurism, refused to discuss the pledge. However, Brundage did say all entries must sign the pledge or they cannot compete.

CAUGHT IN THE STRETCH—Milwaukee third baseman Eddie Mathews tags out sliding Brooklyn Dodger third sacker Jackie Robinson as he attempts to make third in the fourth inning at Ebbetts Field Thursday. Umpire Frank Secory calls the play. Robinson tried to advance from first on teammate Gil Hodges' single to center. The throw from center fielder Bill Bruton to Mathews cut down Robinson and Hodges took second on the play. The Dodgers won 3-0 for their third victory in the four-game series. (AP Wirephoto.)

Outfielder Remarks On Dodger Team

BROOKLYN (AP)—"I know those guys. I played with them. They're rolling now. And when they're rolling, they're tough."

It was veteran outfielder Andy Pafko of the Milwaukee Braves talking after the Brooklyn Dodgers had pulled to within two games of the National League leaders with a 3-0 decision behind Don Newcombe in the windup of a four-game series yesterday.

Newcombe's great performance, in which he allowed only four hits, struck out 10 and didn't walk a man, gave the world champions 3 of 4 from the Braves.

Since they lost four straight games in Milwaukee after the All-Star Game break, the Dodgers have played at a .750 pace with 13 victories and 5 losses. More significant, they have won 7 of 10 games played with Milwaukee and Cincinnati, the two teams that lead them in the standings.

Yesterday, homers by Carl Furillo and Roy Campanella accounted for all the runs.

Newcombe, who has won 16 games and 7 in succession, has been little short of perfect in the last month. In his last 36 innings, he has permitted only 2 runs and 19 hits while striking out 21 and walking only 5. He has two straight shutouts and a string of 24 consecutive scoreless innings, longest for any National League pitcher this year.

"I don't know whether I'm any faster now than I was at the start of the season," he said, "but I hope I can keep it up. Control is the main thing. When I'm staying ahead of the hitters, I don't have too much to worry about."

In Australia ranged from "how is the IOC going to apply the rule?" to "what is the IOC trying to do? Set itself up as an international police force?"

Kentucky Bluegrass Festival Features Basketball Tourney

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—One of the richest basketball tournaments of all time will be staged in the new state Fairgrounds Coliseum Dec. 28-29, with four top collegiate powers getting at least $14,000 each.

Two perennial giants, Dayton and St. Louis Universities, have signed agreements to play in the Bluegrass Holiday Festival, and two others, the University of Kentucky and the University of Louisville, seem almost a certainty.

Fairgrounds Sports Director Bill Henry said each team should clear as much as $14,000.

Dayton and St. Louis accepted invitations yesterday. Both withdrew earlier from the Sugar Bowl Tournament in New Orleans because of a new Louisiana law which forbids Negroes and whites from competing with or against each other in that state.

Kentucky has signed an agreement to play in the New Orleans tournament, but it is believed they will decline the Sugar Bowl affair in favor of the meet here.

Jackie Jensen Holds Record 340 Feet Away

DETROIT (AP)—No one needed to ask if Jackie Jensen realized he was within 340 feet of the all-time record for runs batted in.

The Boston Red Sox slugger, who drove in nine runs in an 18-3 victory over Detroit yesterday, nearly swung himself out of Briggs Stadium trying for the new mark.

The blond belter, the American League's co-champion in RBIs last season, had a perfect setup to break Sunny Jim Bottomley's single-game record of 12 runs batted in.

Jensen already had driven in nine runs with a home run, a triple, a single and a sacrifice fly when he stepped to the plate in the eighth inning. The Red Sox had loaded the bases and there were two men out.

He needed a grand-slam homer to do it. Facing Jensen was slender Jim Bunning, the sixth Detroit pitcher. From his first delivery it was plain that Jensen was pulling for the fence, 340 feet down the left field line.

The 29-year-old muscle man swung so hard while missing Bunning's first offering that his cap flew off and he went to his knees. Once again he swung from the heels, but got only a small piece of the ball and tapped it weakly to the mound for the third out.

"I never saw a guy so anxious to hit one out of the park in all my life," the Tiger pitcher said later.

Jensen batted across three runs in the first inning off southpaw Bob Miller with his 13th home run. He brought home another in the fifth with a sacrifice fly. In the sixth, he boomed a bases-loaded triple off Al Aber and an inning later drilled a single off Bunning to score two runners.

Cardinals Put Long Winning Streak On Line With 'Bums'

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The St. Louis Cardinals, with their season's longest winning streak going, run into Brooklyn's band of Dodgers tonight.

But the Birds have taken only four out of 14 games from the Bums so far this season and have only a 1-4 record at Ebbetts field.

St. Louis took its fifth in a row yesterday with a 7-5 victory over the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Herm Wehmeier got credit for the win to post a 6-8 record after taking over from Vinegar Ben Mizell, who suffered a slight back sprain.

Stan Musial hit his 19th homer of the year for the Cards and Wehmeier continued his hot hitting, too, with two RBIs. Ace Bob Friend, who had allowed St. Louis only two runs in 36 innings, was hammered for four runs on seven hits in the third inning.

The Kansas City Athletics edged Baltimore 3-2, as Harry (Sultcase) Simpson belted a two-run homer and Enos Slaughter drove home another with a pinch single.

Baltimore scored on homers by Willie Miranda and Gus Triandos. Simpson's homer was his 17th of the season and boosted his RBI total to 80.

To Meet Van Van Dyne for Title--

Reynolds Edges Vic Van Dyne In Semifinals of Junior Golf

A sizeable group of spectators witnessed a hotly contested 36-hole semifinals match in the Sedalia Country Club's Junior Golf Championship tournament Sunday which went nearly the full distance before Frank Reynolds nosed out Vic Van Dyne 2-and-1.

Reynolds finished the first nine holes with a 1-up edge on Van Dyne and added another hole to his lead on the second nine to finish 2 up at the halfway point. On the third round the match followed the same pattern with Reynolds gaining another hole to put him 3 up.

But the final round didn't prove quite so methodical for the leader. Reynolds opened the fourth lap fast by holing a birdie three on the first hole to give him a 4-up margin. They halved the next two holes with Reynolds still 4 up with six remaining in the match.

Then is when Van Dyne found it appropriate to stage a rousing rally. Van Dyne won the next hole with a par, took the fifth hole easily while Reynolds sprayed a ball out of bounds, and climaxed his comeback by also taking the sixth. With Van Dyne only one down and three holes left, it appeared once more to be anybody's match.

Van Dyne's hopes, however, were shattered when Reynolds sank a 30-foot birdie putt on the seventh to make him two up and two to go, and proceeded to tie Van Dyne on the eighth to close him out by the 2-and-1 margin in 35 holes.

After playing the final hole for medal score purposes, Van Dyne finished with 38-37-39-37-151 for the four rounds while Reynolds' rounds were 37-36-40-38-151.

Reynolds' win placed him in the finals against Vic's brother, Van Van Dyne, for the 36-hole finale for the championship this Sunday. Van earlier won over his semifinals opponent, Dickie Sklar, 10-and-9.

Heat's On Now--

August Figures Hard-Hitting For National League Pennant

By ED WILKS
The Associated Press

If you think the heat's on in the National League pennant race, just sit back and wait. This month of August figures to be a scorcher. Take a look:

First-place Milwaukee and second-place Cincinnati, just a game apart, have 14 games to play against each other, eight of them into an 11-day stretch beginning next Friday.

And Brooklyn's third-place world champions, just two games behind the Braves, have nine games remaining with the two top clubs—including five in as many days, three at Cincy beginning Aug. 23 and two at Milwaukee beginning Aug. 26.

Brooklyn completed a hustling comeback yesterday with a 3-0 decision over the Braves, sweeping the last three games in their four-game set. The Braves gave Milwaukee the old-pro treatment. Don Newcombe became the NL's winningest pitcher on a four-hitter and 10 strikeouts. It was his 16th victory.

The Redlegs salvaged only a split from an expected four-game sweep, refinding their power to blast New York's last-place Giants 10-2.

The fourth-place St. Louis Cardinals, nine games back, won their seventh in the last eight by swatting Pittsburgh 7-5. Philadelphia and Chicago were idle.

In the American, Herb Score's four-hitter, backed up by four homers, brought a touch of color back to Cleveland's cheeks as the second-place Indians rocked New York for three straight, 4-0, and whittled the Yankees' lead to seven games.

Boston peppered Detroit 18-3, with Jackie Jensen batting in nine runs. The Chicago White Sox beat Washington 5-4. Kansas City defeated Baltimore 3-2.

Newcombe, who didn't walk a man, ran his scoreless-inning string to 24 with his shutout. Carl Furillo tagged Ray Crone for his 14th homer in the fourth and Roy Campanella rocked him for No. 13, with one on, in the sixth. Henry Aaron ran his hitting streak to 16 games with a first-inning single as the Braves dropped their fifth in the last six.

Stan Palys was 5-for-5 and 7-for-7 in the series, for the Redlegs, smacking a homer along with Ray Jablonski and Frank Robinson as Tom Acker won his second with relief help. Jabbo's poke was a grand-slammer in a six-run seventh. Johnny Antonelli lost it.

The Cards scored four in the third and wrapped up their fifth straight in the seventh with Stan Musial's 19th home run and a two-run double by relief winner Herm Wehmeier.

The Indians caught up with Tom Sturdivant after the young right-hander had beaten them with two straight two-hitters. Bobby Avila, Preston Ward, Rocky Colavito and Chico Carrasquel slapped the homers. Score, who fanned seven in winning his 11th, gave the Indians their second shutout over the Yankees in three days.

Jensen hammered a home run, triple, single and sacrifice fly for the Red Sox, then grounded out with the bases loaded to fall two short of the AL RBI record for one game. Willard Nixon won his fifth, backed by 15 hits off a half-dozen Tiger pitchers, who walked 12.

Les Moss slugged a three-run homer in the sixth to win for the White Sox and reliever Ellis Kinder, who gained his 100th major league victory.

Florida Complains
SARASOTA, Fla. (AP)—Du Pont ran a magazine ad for a new fabric, showing a man standing beside a weather map listing a temperature of 105 degrees for Florida.

The Sarasota Chamber of Commerce and Florida Development Commission protested indignantly that their state never had such hot weather.

W. E. Gordon, Du Pont advertising manager, in a letter to Tod Swalm, chamber manager, said he was sorry.

Little LEAGUES

No Games Tonight

Two of the best games in the Little League were played Thursday night at the Little League Stadium.

In the first game the Optimists squeezed past the Ice and Cold Storage team by a score of 10 to 9. The Optimists scored their winning run in the bottom half of the sixth.

Whitney continued his heavy hitting, getting two doubles on two trips. Case, Optimist pitcher, had two out of two. Johnson was on the mound for Ice and Cold Storage.

The Adco minor B team won the exhibition game from the Jaycee minor B team by a score of 2 to 0. The Adco team scored seven runs, but the time limit ended the game and brought the score back to the first inning tally.

In the second game of the evening the Adco team came from behind in the bottom half of the sixth to score three runs and tie the ball game. Van Dyne scored the winning run in the seventh.

Buchholz led the Lions attack with three hits out of three trips while Berseno had two for two for Adco. Both Berseno hits were doubles. Johnson had the other two Adco hits.

The winning pitcher was Fletcher while McGown was the loser for the Lions.

Foreign Men Lead Golf Tournament

CHICAGO (AP)—Two foreign players, three-time British Open champion Peter Thomson of Melbourne, Australia, and Argentine Antonio Cerdá, today led Uncle Sam's best pros in the $25,000 All-American golf tourney at Tam O'Shanter.

Thomson, unprecedented winner of the last three British Open titles, and Cerdá both posted 5-under-par 67s in the opening round.

One stroke behind as a 156-player pro field headed into the second round of the multiple 72-hole medal play meet was a lesser known domestic pro, Mike Dietz of Lake Orion, Mich.

Dietz, who had a 66, will be remembered as the man PGA defending champion Doug Ford complained about in the recent PGA Championships. Ford complained Dietz asked the gallery for information on a hole. The hole was awarded to Ford and he whipped Mike on the 20th hole.

Ford, defending champion in this All-American scramble which has a $3,420 first-place prize, finished the opening round in a seven-way tie for 10th place at 70.

With three rounds still to go, there was a formidable group of eight 69 shooters. Former U.S. Open champion Ed Furgol led this contingent, which also included Dick Mayer, Walter Burkemo, Bob Rosburg, Tony Holguin, Bud Holscher, Bill Casper Jr. and Gene Ford of Detroit.

Ford's companions in the 70 bracket included Johnny O'Donnell, Earl Stewart Jr., Jimmy Demaret, Ted Kroll, Bob Harris and Mike Suchack.

In all, 41 players either bettered or matched par 72. Among 14 players notched at even par were Sammy Snead and Julius Boros, winner of Tam's 1955 "World" meet.

Actually, the All-American is mainly a tuneup for the rich "World", which starts at Tam next week and requires that all entries must have competed in the All-American.

Bee Jays Take Tenth Victory From Bears

Building up an early lead the Sedalia Bee Jays staved off several late inning rallies by the Jefferson City Bears to defeat them 6 to 3 before a large crowd at Liberty Park Thursday evening. For the Bee Jays it was their tenth victory in the second half of Ban Johnson play against only one defeat. It was also Sedalia's third victory over the Bears in four games played.

The locals opened the scoring with three runs in the initial inning. Case was hit by a pitched ball, Higgins reached first on an error by the shortstop, All fled to centerfield with Case advancing from second to third after the catch. Mines grounded to the shortstop who fumbled the ball scoring Case and Higgins with Mines taking second on the play. Ulrich singled to left scoring Mines.

One more run was chalked up in the second frame when Neal singled to right center, stole second and scored on Case's single.

Sedalia concluded its scoring with two runs in the third. With one out Ulrich singled to left, Newman reached first on an error by the shortstop, Barbour singled to right center scoring Ulrich and Newman, but Barbour was out trying for second.

Eloy Burton received credit for his fourth victory against no losses although he needed help from Clyde Kubi in the ninth. Glenn Vanderliht was tagged with the loss. Bobby Case led the Bee Jay hitters with three safeties. Larry Scrivner led the Jeff City hitting attack with two hits.

Sedalia will travel to Brookfield Sunday night for an all important Ban Johnson contest with the Bombers who won the first half of the Central Missouri league. The team will leave from Ralph Hamlin's service station at 4:30 p.m. Sunday.

Joe Giambra Tries For Fourth Straight

NEW YORK (AP)—Handsome Joe Giambra bids for his fourth straight victory and a place in the middleweight rankings tonight when he opposes clever Rocky Castellani at Madison Square Garden.

The 24-year-old Buffalo adonis feels he's ready to move once more against the top fighters and is confident that the 29-year-old Castellani won't end his modest post-Army streak.

The rangy, 5-11 sharpshooter has been made a slight 6-5 underdog for the 10-rounder which will be broadcast and telecast (NBC-TV, radio, 8 p.m., CST). On form it figures to be a very close fight.

Johnny Longden is the only American jockey who has ridden more than 4,000 winners. At the end of 1955 he had a total of 4,646 winners.

Curtiss-Wright Now Controls S-P Car Factory

By DAVID J. WILKIE
AP Automotive Editor

DETROIT (AP)—For all practical purposes Curtiss-Wright Corp. now is in control of Studebaker-Packard Corp.

Formal announcement of the deal awaits only completion of the final phases of a half-billion-dollar defense contract award to Curtiss-Wright. Several top-level Studebaker-Packard executives already have left the corporation; a number of Curtiss-Wright representatives are already busy in the S-P executive offices here.

It is understood, but not admitted at the S-P offices, that the resignations of Paul G. Hoffman and James J. Nance as board chairman and president, respectively, of Studebaker-Packard have been tendered. It is also understood that Harold Churchill, vice president of Studebaker-Packard and general manager of Studebaker Division, is scheduled to become the president of S-P, with Roy Hurley, head of Curtiss-Wright, as board chairman.

The arrangement that would keep Studebaker-Packard in the auto business needs approval of S-P stockholders. It is estimated six weeks will be required to set up the machinery to get this approval.

Says Four Persons Drown Near Pusan

PUSAN, Korea (AP)—U.S. 8th Army spokesmen say four persons — a U.S. Air Force officer, an Army private and two Canadian nurses — presumably drowned yesterday in rough surf near Pusan.

Names of the victims were withheld. The announcement said high waves dashed the four off rocks and pulled them out to sea. Two bodies were washed ashore, authorities said, but they did not disclose which.

South Korean police reported a drowning incident at the same time and location, but the police account said five Americans were lost off the beach north of Pusan.

Quoting persons who reportedly saw the incident, police gave this account:

A Korean boy was swept off a raft. A woman missionary went into the water after him. An Air Force Colonel, an airman and a military policeman nearby saw the boy and woman in trouble and sought to rescue them. None returned.

Police said none of the bodies were recovered.

Addresses BPWC Meeting—

News Editor Tells Factors
In Production of Newspaper

"What Makes a Newspaper" was the subject of the talk given Thursday night by Peter E. Potter, news editor of The Sedalia Democrat-Capital, at the dinner meeting of the Business and Professional Women's Club. This was the program presented by the news service committee of which Mrs. Albert Dirck is chairman.

Potter divided his talk into four parts: the production of newspaper, what makes a news story, what makes an American newspaper different and what makes the Sedalia newspaper different from any other newspaper in the country. He illustrated his talk with miniature models he had made of newspaper equipment.

Taking the first part, he explained that newspapers come from trees and it takes a fortune to protect those trees, to buy the equipment and produce the newspaper from the paper mills. He told the group that it comes in huge rolls which cost $130 a ton. The Sedalia Democrat, he said, uses ten tons a week.

Paper, he stated, was first made from rags in 105 A.D. in China. It was a thousand years later before the process came to Europe and 500 years more before it reached the colonies. That was 1690 and it was still made out of rags. During the Civil War a copy of a paper cost as high as 60 cents. Then came wood pulp, which was cheaper to produce and the cost went down. Circulation skyrocketed and mass production was necessary, the advertising took care of the cost of production so that newspapers were no longer dependent on high subscription price. In comparison with the cost of newspaper now, the speaker stated that newspaper cost only $41 a ton in 1933. The big rolls, he said, weigh 1400 pounds apiece and go through the press in 20 minutes. It just takes a few drops of ink for a page, but this adds up to 5 1/2 tons a year. You can understand, said Potter, why rates go up all over the country.

The news story, he explained, must be accurate and the local story is the most important. The reporter types the story, then it goes to the news editor who reads it for errors and punctuation, decides on the headline size and where the story goes, then the story is turned over to a reporter who writes the headlines. Then it goes to the Linotype machine, which Potter described as a glorified typewriter. This produces metal letters which come out in a line. There is a spacing device which makes the lines come out even, he said. The type is put into a page frame which holds eight columns of the metal type. The page, he said, is then locked tight. At one time the ink was put on and each page was printed that way. With mass production, he explained it was necessary to find another way and since metal will not bend to put on a roller type, a cardboard mold is now made of the page, the cardboard is bent, lead poured against it and a round cylinder results. The cylinder goes on the press and the paper is run through at the rate of 20,000 copies an hour.

The newsroom starts work at 7 a.m. Potter said, and the front page, the last page to go must be locked in its frame by 2:15 in order to be delivered on time. The out-of-town papers go by train, truck, car, bread trucks and, in Ottumwa, on horseback. There are mistakes made under this time pressure, admitted Potter, but if you would count all the things that are right in the paper, the average is phenomenally good.

American newspapers are different from other papers because the keyword is "freedom," the speaker said. That freedom doesn't mean to print just anything, he explained, it means freedom to use good judgment in printing the truth. In colonial times an editor could be jailed for things he printed and many of them spent as much time in jail as in the print room. In 1789-1791 the Bill of Rights guaranteed freedom of the press but not until 100 years later did a court find a reporter need not reveal the source of his story. The fight for freedom, he pointed out, is not yet over.

The Sedalia newspaper is different from every other because each newspaper has its own characteristics and its own tone. It is not that they are to make the paper look nice and tell which story is most important. The thing that makes a newspaper in a community is the people themselves. In a smaller town like this, he explained, the people are closer together, more friendly and neighborly than in a big city. The newspaper reflects that attitude.

Summing it up, Potter said, what makes a newspaper are people and freedom, and it is the newspaper's job to protect the freedom. The newspaper is like a mirror; it reflects its community. But, unlike other mirrors, it has a heart and a dream. It has a heart, because it sometimes softens the image, and it has the dream that the image will someday become better than it is.

The musical program also included one of the Democrat staff, Larry Owen, a reporter, who sang: "Walk Hand in Hand With Me," "What- ever Will Be Will Be" and, as an encore, "Innamorata." He was accompanied by Miss Judy Case.

The cover of the program was designed by still another member of the Sedalia Democrat news staff, Miss Joella Brereton, society editor. It was in the form of a puzzle with different types of news, features and ads. Around it was printed: "Newspapers are like puzzles, many small odd-shaped pieces are united to bring to the public a smooth picture of diversified news."

Even the decorations were in keeping with the newspaper theme, with foliage plants loaned by Mr. Lee of the Missouri State Fairground. The foliage, wrapped in newspapers, formed the centerpiece for the tables.

The meeting was presided over by Mrs. Anna Bagby, president, with invocation by Mrs. Ray Crosslin. Pep singing was led by Miss Eugenia Arnold, with Mrs. Donald Donath at the piano.

Outstanding airmen from Whiteman Air Force Base were introduced by Lt. J. J. McCardle, and received certificates as outstanding airmen for the month of May. They were A-1c Donald E. Walker, S-1c Arthur N. Patrum, A-1c George W. Bridges, Jr., and S-1c Ronald A. Riggs.

Guests were Mrs. John Cross; Miss Kathleen Barr, Marshall, Mrs. Earl Foy, Hutchinson, Kan., Mrs. Nell Herrick, Jefferson City; Mrs. Roy Taylor, Dallas, Tex., Miss Kay Matthews, Miss Ida Cruzan, Miss Marsha Priddy and Mrs. W. J. Lang.

A letter of appreciation to the Sedalia Club from Miss Hazel Palmer was read and Mrs. John Welch announced that a sum of $252 was realized from the recent ice cream social.

Members of the news service committee with Mrs. Dirck were Mrs. Atwell Bohling, Mrs. William Bond, Mrs. Georgia Ervin, Mrs. Eleanor Goldman, Mrs. Marian McCarty, Miss Rose Leibbrand, Mrs. Florence Potts, Mrs. Kathryn Rosencrans, Miss Letha Shaw, and three members of The Sedalia Democrat staff, Miss Joella Brereton, news, Mrs. Nina Carpenter, business office, and Mrs. Louella Swegles, classified advertising.

Albert Woolson Will Get Military Honors

DULUTH, Minn. (AP) — Albert Woolson, last of the Civil War Boys in Blue, will be accorded full military honors, replete with an honor guard and visiting dignitaries, at his funeral Monday afternoon.

A highlight of the rites for the old soldier will be a guard of 109 soldiers — representing each year of Woolson's life — that will accompany the former Union Army drummer boy on his last journey.

Hugh M. Milton, assistant secretary of the Army, Gov. Orville Freeman of Minnesota and several of the state's congressmen will head the official party of mourners.

In a message of condolence to the family, President Eisenhower said Woolson's passing "brings sorrow to the hearts of all of us who cherish the memory of the brave men on both sides of the War Between the States."

Woolson's passing left only three survivors of Civil War action, all of them veterans of the Confederate Army.

Sets Unofficial
1,900 MPA Plane
Speed Record

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — The Air Force has set a new unofficial world speed record for airplanes of 1,900 miles an hour, but the Defense Department won't for the present allow the fact to be confirmed officially.

Lt. Col. Frank K. Everest Jr., a 34-year-old West Virginian, flew the Bell X-2 rocket plane four times as fast as a bullet travels — and close to three times the speed of sound — just last week, July 25, over the southern California desert near Edwards Air Force Base.

This was 250 miles an hour faster than the 1,650 m.p.h. attained by Maj. Charles Yeager in a sister ship, the Bell X-1A, Dec. 12, 1953.

Everest was here attending the Air Force Assn. convention when the news of his achievement leaked out yesterday.

He declined to discuss the flight with reporters, on the grounds that Air Force security restrictions forbade comment.

The X-2 is a multimillion-dollar flying laboratory, fitted with a quarter ton of instruments to measure temperatures, fuel consumption, stresses and strains at extreme high speeds.

Powered by a Curtiss-Wright rocket engine, it is the first plane to be designed specifically to explore the "thermal barrier" — the problem of ever increasing air-friction heat as supersonic planes fly faster and faster.

Australia sells about 900 million dollars worth of wool a year.

Regrets McKeon Trial

Hear Testimony By Gen. Puller; Defense Rests

PARRIS ISLAND, S. C., Aug. 2—(P)—The U. S. Marines' top combat general said today he thinks the Corps regrets ever court-martialing S. Sgt. Matthew C. McKeon for the death of six recruits.

With this outspoken testimony from retired Lt. Gen. Lewis B. (Chesty) Puller, counsel Emile Zola Berman rested his defense of the 31-year-old drill instructor who on April 8 led recruit Platoon 71 on a death march into Ribbon Creek.

The case is expected to close tomorrow—18 days after it opened.

'Deplorable Accident'

Puller, blue eyes flashing, square jaw jutting, testified at McKeon's trial on charges of manslaughter, oppression of recruits and drinking on duty.

"I say this night march was and is a deplorable accident. I think, from reading about the testimony of Gen. Randolph McC. Pate yesterday, that he agrees and regrets this man ever was ordered tried by general court-martial."

Pate, commandant of the Corps, testified he thought McKeon should have been demoted one stripe for drinking, and transferred.

Defends McKeon

As the significance of Puller's remarks sank in, a gasp rolled across the packed courtroom. McKeon did not change expression.

Puller, known in every Marine mess around the world as a man who says what he thinks, testified he believed McKeon's night march was good military tactics and not oppression of recruits.

And he stunned a predominantly military audience by declaring he would train his troops the way he thought they should be trained, regardless of any directives from his superiors.

Before Puller testified a young drill sergeant here on Parris Island laid his Marine career on the line in defense of McKeon.

Led Similar Marches

Tall, slim Sgt. Leland Blanding, 22, of Binghamton, N. Y., risked disciplinary action by revealing he led five recruit platoons on marches similar to McKeon's march, but without loss of life.

Blanding said he understood that he risked punishment. But he added he volunteered as a witness for the defense, and did so willingly.

Tomorrow morning will be devoted to summations of the case by both sides. After that there will be the judge's charge to the court, the seven-man board that functions as a jury.

First the jury reaches a verdict. If McKeon is found guilty, the jury retires a second time to fix sentence. The maximum under all counts is a dishonorable discharge and a sentence of not more than six years in prison.

Young Democrats Hold Organization Meeting

The turnout for the Young Democratic Club meeting in the Pettis County Courthouse was comparatively small for the amount of registered members in Pettis County. The Wednesday night meeting was originally slated for the election of officers, but since there was not even a quorum from the enrolled 234 members, it was decided by those attending to postpone the election of officers until a following meeting.

An organization committee was set up for the purpose of going over the lists of memberships, to pick likely people for officers. This committee will meet previous to the next general meeting night for its work. Another group of members are to pick the time and place for the next meeting. This will be announced later in the week.

Each member at the Wednesday night meeting took applications for membership blanks and are soliciting them now and through the coming weeks.

The recorded number of 234 enrolled Young Democrats is the largest believed registration of Young Democrats in Pettis County.

NFO Chooses Sedalia Site For Meeting

11th Congressional District Farmers To Convene Aug. 27

A preliminary meeting of officers of the National Farm Organization in counties of the 11th Congressional District was held this week, at which time Sedalia was chosen as the site for the first convention of this Congressional district. The convention has been set for Monday, Aug. 27.

The meeting was held at Versailles at which National NFO President Oren Lee Staley, Rea, Mo., was present and gave a talk to the group. Staley announced the national organization was setting up the plans for Congressional district conventions in each state where the NFO has been formed, and from these conventions they would attend state and national functions.

Staley said these types of conventions are arranged "to develop grass roots opinion of agriculture and to coordinate and solve problems of local and nationwide nature."

He told the group the NFO is now the largest farm organization of a national scope in the state of Missouri, with 63,000 certified members. Staley said, "Our goal is to have 90 per cent of farmers in the NFO by the close of the year."

The Versailles meeting began the stepped-up fall campaign for organization work in Missouri. At this meeting the county officers and members of the board of directors were in attendance.

Each county in the district is to hold a meeting during the week of Aug. 13 at which time they will elect delegates to the district meeting. It was brought out there will be several hundred farmers in Sedalia for the big convention.

Thirteen counties of the 17 in the district were represented and elected temporary officers for the district convention. They are: Berkeley Hall, Saline County, chairman; Olen Downs, Pettis County, vice-chairman; Roy Petree, Cole County, secretary; and William Heckerman, Jr., Cole County, treasurer.

The program set up for the convention in Sedalia calls for registration starting at 10 a. m. on Monday, Aug. 27, to be followed by the opening of the business session at 1:30 in the afternoon. At that time permanent district officers will be elected and carry on the business.

National President Staley has indicated he would come to Sedalia for this meeting, as it is one of the first such district conventions to be conducted by the NFO. Also coming will be State Directors Ed Caldwell, Perry County, Ed Glenn, Pike County, and Karren McKinney, Gentry County.

Northern Missouri Drought Area Faces Lowland Flooding

KANSAS CITY, Aug. 2—(P)—Northern Missouri, faced with drought condition from a lack of rainfall only a few weeks ago, braced today for lowland flooding. Torrential rains up to 4½ inches swelled streams to high water proportions overnight, and forecasters predicted more of the same kind of weather through tonight.

Sharp rises took place on the North Grand, Chariton and Petite Saline Rivers. Several area creeks were out of their banks, the second time this week for some of them.

Gallatin reported the 4½-inch fall. Other readings ranged from 4.44 inches at Kirksville to a trace at St. Louis. Scattered rains continued today.

Pushes Herter Drive

Governor Must Be 'Drafted', Stassen Says

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2—(P)—Harold Stassen pushed his campaign to "draft" Christian Herter tonight after the Massachusetts governor said he won't consent to have his name placed in nomination for vice president at the GOP National Convention.

Soon after Stassen opened an "Eisenhower—Herter" headquarters here today, Herter announced that if his name was placed before the San Francisco convention later this month it would have to be without his consent.

Wouldn't Agree to Rival Nixon Herter told a Boston news conference it should be obvious he would not agree to becoming a convention floor rival of Vice President Nixon when he himself has promised Republican National Chairman Leonard Hall that he will nominate Nixon.

Imperturbably, Stassen commented: "Gov. Herter's statement is a correct expression of his position. 'I agree with it.'"

"He is not a candidate and must be drafted, as I have emphasized from the beginning of the Eisenhower-Herter move."

"He is in a position similar to that of Gen. Eisenhower at SHAPE in 1951."

In 1951, Eisenhower was commander of the Supreme Headquarters, Allied Powers in Europe. He was being boomed for the Republican presidential nomination but had not yet announced his candidacy. He told one group of boosters in December 1951, that his job at that time was too important for him to become involved in the American political scene.

In Boston today, Herter conceded that his name could be placed in nomination without his consent.

Accused of Irresponsibility As Stassen stepped up his campaign in behalf of Herter, he came under attack by the chairmen of the GOP campaign committees in the House and Senate. They accused him of irresponsibility in trying to push Nixon off the No. 2 spot on the ticket this fall.

Sen. Schoeppel of Kansas and Rep. Richard M. Simpson of Pennsylvania, the congressional campaign chiefs, asserted that "rank-and-file members of the Republican party have become disgusted with Stassen's antics."

They predicted Nixon will be re-nominated "by acclamation on the first ballot at the Republican National Convention despite the irresponsible actions of Harold E. Stassen."

Adlai Gains In Delegate Vote Tallies

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2—(P)—Adlai Stevenson made further gains in delegate votes over Gov. Averell Harriman today in their race for the Democratic presidential nomination, mainly due to rechecks in Illinois and Indiana.

With 68½ needed for the nomination, the Associated Press tabulation of votes pledged and first ballot preferences expressed in polls showed:

Stevenson	437
Harriman	163½
Others	347
Unknown	404½

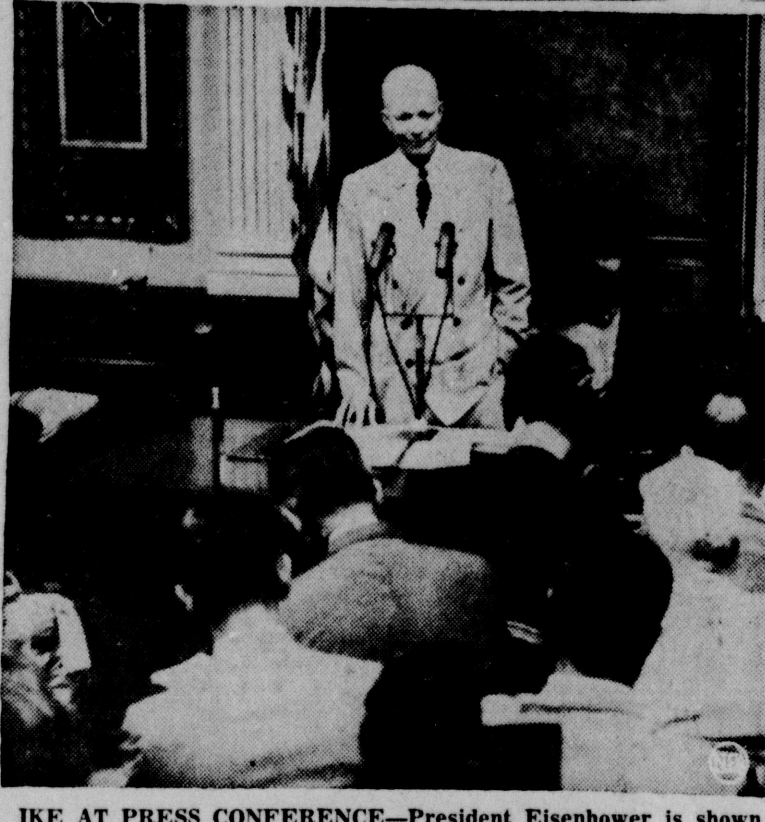

Stevenson picked up 10½ more in his home state of Illinois for a total of 30 votes, and another 12 in Indiana as a result of the withdrawal from the race of Sen. Estes Kefauver who had 26 pledged votes in the Hoosier State. Harriman picked up three of Kefauver's votes in Indiana and a half-vote in Iowa since yesterday's tabulation.

IKE AT PRESS CONFERENCE—President Eisenhower is shown at his first press conference since his operation. He told newsmen that Vice President Richard Nixon is perfectly acceptable to him as a 1956 running mate. The President also said that Harold Stassen was completely within his rights as a private citizen in backing someone other than Nixon. (NEA Telephoto)

Big 3 Ask Soviet, Egypt to Meeting

Seek International Suez Control; See Doubt Egypt Will OK Parley

LONDON, Aug. 2—(P)—The Western Big Three tonight invited the Soviet Union and Egypt to participate in a 24-nation conference aimed at setting up international control of the Suez Canal.

This was announced at Britain and France, advising their nationals to leave Egypt, moved toward a war footing in the Mediterranean. But a good authority said the United States had received assurances that military strength will not be used pending the Aug. 16 conference in London—unless there are "provocative acts."

Cooling-Off Period Seen

Thus a cooling-off period of two weeks appeared to be developing. But Cairo dispatches cast doubt on whether President Gamal Abdel Nasser, who seized the Suez last Thursday under a nationalization decree, would agree to any sort of international action undoing his Suez-for-Egypt plans.

Secretary of State Dulles, who met here with British and French leaders to draft the conference plans, seemed somewhat relaxed as he left for Washington. He called results of the meetings "very satisfactory."

Dulles had been meeting here with the British and French foreign ministers—Selwyn Lloyd and Christian Pineau. He also had the opportunity to talk with Prime Minister Eden, busy hustling reserves to the colors and ordering air, army and naval units to within striking distance of Cairo.

Denounce Seizure of Canal

A communique issued by the foreign secretaries acknowledged Egypt's right to nationalize assets subject to its own political control. But it condemned "the arbitrary and unilateral" seizure of the waterway, saying that act "involves far more than nationalization."

Britain issued the formal invitations to the conference. They go both to the signers of the 1888 Constantinople Convention and a second group of nations "largely concerned with the use of the canal, either through ownership of tonnage or pattern of trade."

The first group includes Egypt, France, Italy, the Netherlands, Spain, Turkey, Britain and Russia. The second is composed of the United States, Ceylon, Australia, Denmark, Ethiopia, West Germany, Greece, India, Indonesia, Iraq, Japan, New Zealand, Norway, Pakistan, Portugal and Sweden.

Advise Britons Leave Egypt

While an undisclosed number of emergency reserves was recalled to military service by Britain, British Commonwealth countries also were understood to be advising their nationals to leave Egypt if possible. The British and French embassies stressed they had not ordered an evacuation of their citizens, but only advised them to leave. In Washington, U. S. State Department sources said 2,700 Americans in Egypt were advised to stay out of crowds and avoid downtown Cairo.

Eden announced Britain's military precautions in the House of Commons, where some speakers pictured Britain as determined to go it alone if force is necessary to safeguard the canal.

J. Saia of Kansas City, Mo., convention director, welcomed delegates at the opening session, at which S. Dysart of Mexico, Mo., was a speaker.

Albert Woolson

Union Army's Last Survivor Dies at 109

Lung Condition Takes Civil War Vet Albert Woolson

DULUTH, Minn., Aug. 2—(P)—Albert Woolson, 109, the last of some 2,675,000 boys in blue of the Civil War's Union Army, died in a coma today.

Woolson, who answered President Lincoln's call to arms and marched off to war as a drummer boy when he was 17, had been hospitalized for nine weeks with a recurring lung congestion condition. He lapsed into a coma early Saturday and did not regain consciousness. Since then, he had been fed intravenously and was given oxygen.

Members of his family were at his bedside when he died in St. Luke's Hospital.

Full-Scale Military Services

Full-scale military funeral services will be conducted at the National Guard Armory here Monday at 2 p. m. Burial will be in the family lot at Park Hill Cemetery here.

Only three veterans of the Civil War, all members of the Confederate forces, survive. They are W. W. Williams, 113, Franklin, Tex.; John Salling, 110, Slant, Va.; and William A. Lundy, 108, Laurel Hill, Fla. Informed of Woolson's death, Lundy said, "I regret very much the passing of Mr. Woolson."

Woolson's last comrade of the Union Army, James A. Hard, Rochester, N. Y., died in 1953 at 111.

GAR Dies With Him

The Grand Army of the Republic officially died with Woolson, who was its senior vice commander in chief. It was decided at the last encampment of the Union veterans in 1949 that the GAR would continue to exist technically until the death of the last member. At its peak in 1890, the GAR had 408,489 members.

Woolson became a volunteer private in Company C of the 1st Minnesota Heavy Artillery Regiment when President Lincoln was making heavy calls for more troops. Woolson worked in a furniture factory, in a traveling minstrel band, in mills and logging camps after his discharge. He retired from active work 24 years ago "to take life easy."

Except for deafness and the lung congestion condition, the old soldier was in remarkably good health in recent years. His doctor said Woolson's "deep-seated interest and drive" had contributed heavily to his general condition.

Scrap Yard at Sedalia Shops Is Important Part of Operation in Railroad Economy

EDITOR'S NOTE: The following article was written by L. L. Studer, general storekeeper for the Missouri Pacific Lines, and appeared in the Missouri Pacific magazine recently. It is the story of a large operation at the Sedalia shops and its importance to railroad economy.

Someone has said that there is magic in "Scrap," and there is. There is magic in scrap because this lowly thing called scrap is not just scrap anymore. It's America's mine above ground. It was and is an important factor in the economy of the American railroads, and all through the war years the wars in which our country has engaged it was woven around the heartstrings of the American people because it had a lot to do with the preservation of our American way of life.

To the layman, and indeed to the average railroad employee, scrap is associated with something of little or no value, to be discarded and thrown away. But to the trained stores supervisor it represents something of great potential value. How to properly and economically grade it into AAR scrap classifications; to convert the lower selling grades into higher selling grades through a process of preparation; and to salvage the usable and reclaimable items out of the scrap for reuse is a major operation. It is an operation which will, if given the analysis and study that its importance merits, subsequently reflect net savings that will be far-reaching in effect.

It is therefore unthinkable that scrap should be permitted to lay around dormant and inactive. It is an essential part of our everyday job to keep digging it out of its hiding places and to keep it moving to scrap concentration yards.

At Sedalia is located one of the largest scrap concentration yards in the middle west and to this yard flows a constant stream of scrap. The yards are equipped with modern equipment for the handling and preparation of scrap, staffed with a well-trained and informed personnel. The yards so equipped move a tremendous volume of scrap monthly, economically and with a minimum of delay.

The sorting yard, located under a gantry crane, is 85 feet wide by 305 feet long and is provided with 92 open top storage boxes parallel with the monorail track and located on both sides of the sorting yard. These boxes, with a capacity of 10 to 15 tons of scrap, are equipped with hooks, and whenever a sufficient number of them are filled with the same grade of scrap they are picked up by the gantry crane and the contents dumped into outbound cars. The miscellaneous scrap, consisting largely of track and freight car scrap, is unloaded on the night shift with a 65-inch magnet on the gantry crane and scattered over the ground between the monorails at the rate of 25 tons an hour.

The prevailing practice is to scatter the scrap thin on the ground, not exceeding six inches for the track scrap and 18 inches for the car scrap, as long experience has shown that scrap cannot be economically sorted when an attempt is made to pick it from large piles.

The following day the scrap sorters begin the task of recovering the second-hand usable and reclaimable materials therefrom and to sort the scrap into piles the various AAR classifications, which are picked up with the magnet and loaded into the loading cars for sale or into open top boxes for storage.

Heavy melting steel scrap, which accumulates rapidly and in quantities, is loaded from the ground directly into outbound cars. Other grades, which accumulate more slowly, are kept in open top boxes to avoid the necessity of holding commercial cars underloaded while in process of loading. This is a contributing factor to an increase in the number of miles per car per day. In sorting the scrap, care is used in grading it to proper classification, each kind and class being separated until each piece obtains its greatest monetary sale value.

Second hand usable and reclaimable materials sorted out of the scrap are delivered to the proper storage location or to the reclamation plant. These two items, reaching an amazing ten per cent, or greater, of the total scrap receipts, occupy an eminent position in processed scrap production.

The woman who is so label con-

It does not cost very much per ton to properly grade miscellaneous track and car scrap, even with the presently prevailing high wage rates. The sale of any mixed or unsorted scrap is a costly practice which will subsequently result in a very large monetary loss to the rail carriers and in addition thereto, deprive the carriers of a very large volume of secondhand usable and reclaimable materials which should be salvaged out of the scrap for reuse.

The converting of lower selling grades of scrap into the higher selling grades, through a process of preparation with cutting torches and alligator shears, is carried out to a very large extent at this yard. It is generally recognized that except under abnormal conditions, which may have created a congestion of scrap, it is unsound in principle to dispose of uncut or unprepared scrap by sale.

There are, of course, some exceptions to this rule with some kinds of scrap where the spread per net ton and the cost in connection therewith will not justify the cutting operations. Therefore, it is necessary that the spread per net ton of the prices offered for unprepared and prepared scrap be available at all times and that the cost of preparation figures be constantly reviewed.

There is a very large tonnage of scrap rail received at Sedalia which is handled with locomotive cranes and with gantry cranes whenever the necessary on-the-ground space is available. The best method of sorting scrap rail requires constant study. Each car and each kind of load is an individual problem.

At Sedalia we have found that unloading and sorting with a gantry crane, utilizing the 65-inch electric magnet, provides the speediest and most economical method. Unloading an average of 12 lengths of rail per lift, the operator releases the load from the magnet by degrees, scattering it in a straight window parallel to the track and one rail deep. The crane follower marks the various grades, pulling out the short rail. The re-roller, or No. 1 rails may be removed where they lay in groups, or the magnet may be centered over one or more No. 3 rails, pulling these out of the row and piling them adjacent to the loading track—or load them directly into cars.

The greatest advantage derived from this method of handling is faster releasing and loading of cars—and here again is a factor leading to an increase in the number of miles per car per day.

Worn out freight cars are destroyed at the dismantling yard—size 85 by 775 feet—under a gantry crane. The usable material is recovered therefrom and the scrap converted in salable sizes at the average rate of ten cars each working day. The car bodies are lifted from the trucks intact, and placed on the ground for the cutters at the rate of one car every five minutes.

Utilizing the pipe line system for oxyacetylene gas, with stations for the hose hooks at proper spacing, a constant flow of gas at steady pressure is assured, effecting a considerable saving in comparison to the individual cylinder method.

The car bodies of box cars of wood construction are burned at night. The next day the cutters prepare the superstructure for the alligator shears, making all cuts preparatory to reducing the scrap to melting steel size. Then, turning the entire underframe over, the cutters complete the cuts and the scrap is ready to load. Steel cars are handled in a similar manner, except that the cars are spaced far enough apart when placed on the ground so that the superstructure can be cut loose and dropped to the ground. Here the sides and underframes are cut to melting steel.

The same night the scrap is loaded and on the following day is on its way to the steel mills at the rate of five cars of No. 1 heavy melting steel each day.

The woman who is so label con-conscious that she judges everything other women have by whether or not the article bears an expensive label. Such women can't even admire a piece of china without turning it over to see what is written on the back.

The woman who in the first five minutes of conversation with a stranger tries to find out whether or not she is worth bothering with. She goes after a family and financial rating with a series of such questions as, "Where do you live?" "Do you know the So-and-So's?" "Who are always someone important?" "What does your husband do?"

The woman who sets out to let other women know how important she is by name-dropping.

The woman who acknowledges an introduction to another woman with an icy stare.

And the sad thing is, these women think they are making a good impression.

Thus this lowly thing called "Scrap" has become a profitable major project on our railroads, to the economy of the nation and, in addition, a prominent factor in the national defense.

Last Minute Agreement Averts Strike

PITTSBURGH (AP)—A last-minute agreement on a three-year, no-strike contract today averted a strike of 15,000 members of the Aluminum Workers International Union at nine plants of Aluminum Co. of America.

The agreement is subject to ratification by a majority of the local unions, who have until Aug. 9 to cast their votes. After he signed the contract, Edward Stahl, president of the union, declared:

"My signature on the contract is a recommendation."

The settlement, which came in the wake of a 24-hour strike postponement, left this situation in the vital aluminum industry:

The AWIU's contract covering 6,500 workers at 10 plants of Reynolds Metal Co. expired Aug. 1. The union has granted a day-to-day extension with provision for three days notice if a strike is called. Negotiations are continuing at Richmond, Va.

The United Steelworkers continued the strike it called yesterday against both Alcoa and the Reynolds company. The USW represents 18,000 Alcoa workers at 12 plants and about 10,000 at nine Reynolds plants.

Federal mediator William Rose succeeded in keeping negotiations rolling between Alcoa and the AWIU. He secured a 24-hour contract extension, then got both sides together again in a marathon session of meetings which broke up shortly before midnight with the announcement of the new contract.

Stahl, referring to the master three-year contract negotiated in the basic steel industry by the USW, declared:

"We believe our contract provides as much or more money than the steel settlement."

In a joint announcement Stahl and Robert K. Heineman, Alcoa's director of industrial relations, said the new agreement called for a package boost totaling 46 cents hourly over the three-year contract period. It calls for a general direct wage increase of 9 1/2 cents an hour the first year, 7 cents the second and 8 cents the third. Under the old contract, the average hourly wage was $2.22.

Says No Other Officer Figures In Check Scandal

CHICAGO (AP)—Gov. William G. Stratton asserted last night "there is no evidence that any other state officer was involved in any manner" in the Hodge million dollar check cashing scandal.

Reporting on the official action he took after the scandal broke in the office of deceased auditor Orville E. Hodge, the governor said:

"This was purely an internal matter involving the office of the state auditor of public accounts. One of the reasons we were able to move so vigorously and effectively to clean up the delinquencies in the auditor's case was this fact that all remaining state officers were free to cooperate and no one in my own administration was in any way connected with the illegal operations conducted by the state auditor."

Speaking on radio and television over station WBBM and WBBM-TV, the governor said he used "the only legal means" he had to force Hodge's removal from office by ordering him to double his $50,000 bond as auditor—a condition deemed virtually impossible with Hodge already under arrest.

School Superintendent Resigns After Meeting

EAST ST. LOUIS, Ill. (AP)—An investigation of school finances at nearby Brooklyn has brought the resignation of William Terry as superintendent of schools and the firing of the seven-member school board of Lovejoy School District.

These two developments yesterday came on the heels of the disclosure by State's Attorney Richard T. Carter of St. Clair County that Mrs. Cecile Hudspeth, principal of the high school, had admitted embezzling $1,940 in school funds.

The 76-year-old Terry also is mayor of the village, an all-Negro suburb of East St. Louis, and supervisor of St. Louis township. The job of superintendent paid $6,600 a year.

Clarence D. Blair, St. Clair County superintendent of schools, said the school board dismissals are effective next Monday. His action followed a recommendation by Carter.

All American Led by Cerda And Thomson

Both Golfers Fire 67 in First Round Of 'Tam' Tourney

CHICAGO, Aug. 2 (AP)—British Open Champion Peter Thomson and Antonio Cerda de Buenos Aires kicked up their heels at the American pros today with 5-under par 67's to share the first round lead of the All American Golf Tournament.

Cerda, making his fourth bid in the Tam O'Shanter jamboree, hit every fairway and one-potted five greens in posting 34-33-67.

Thomson was nearly four hours behind Cerda as the field of 156 pros opened their stampede for the $3,420 top prize.

He finished the first nine in 32, and came home in 35 for his 67. Tam O'Shanter's 6,915-yard layout carries a 36-36-72 standard.

Mike Dietz of Lake Orion, Mich., kept on the pace with a 35-33-68. The 69 shooters included Dick Mayer, Walter Burkemo, Bob Rorsburg, Bud Holscher and Ed Furgal.

Grouped at 70 were John O'Donnell, defending champion Doug Ford, Jimmy Demaret, Ted Kroll and Mike Suchack.

Julius Boros, the 1955 Tam "world" champion, Arnold Palmer, Sam Snead, Ed Oliver, Dutch Harrison and George Bayer were clustered in a large group at 72.

Louise Suggs, Sea Island, Ga., and Bonnie Randolph, Columbus, Ohio, each with 39-36-75, led the women pros.

Marilynn Smith of Wichita, Kan., was in fifth place, four strokes off the pace at 42-37-79.

Ex-Heavy Boxer Comiskey Shot By Girl Friend

NORTH HOLLYWOOD, Calif., Aug. 2 (AP)—Former heavyweight boxer Pat Comiskey says he awoke at 2 a.m. today to find his 6-foot-2 girl friend standing over his bed clutching a rifle.

"I'm going to kill you," and swore at him, he quoted her. Then, he says, she fired a .22 bullet into his groin.

The 35-year-old Comiskey—6 feet 5, 280 pounds and winner of 68 of 82 fights during a colorful ring career between 1938 and 1949—was treated at Sun Valley Hospital. His injury was not serious.

Police later arrested Lenore Louise Brinkley, 31, parked in a car at an intersection. She wore only an overcoat to keep out the morning chill, officers said.

They quoted her as saying she has lived with the part-time actor for two years and that they argued most of yesterday.

"I hate actors," she said at one point.

"We just battle all the time," she explained after being booked on suspicion of assault with intent to commit murder.

Of the booking, she added: "I'm a crack shot from Arkansas and I do a lot of target practice. If I had intended to kill him, I would have shot to kill."

Carter Puts Stop To Satterfield In Fifth Round

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (AP)—If Archie Moore doesn't manage to get into a title ring with Floyd Patterson next month, he'll find a young and sturdy fellow named Harold Carter itching to take him on.

And, judging from what Carter did to veteran Bob Satterfield Wednesday night, Moore will find his hands full.

"I want to be heavyweight champion, that's my goal," the Linden, N. J., youth beamed after he stopped Satterfield in the fifth round.

Carter won the first four rounds on all cards then put Satterfield down twice in the fifth. As Bob began to slump along the ropes the third time, Referee Teddy Martin waved his hands to end it.

Most of the 2,167 fans thought that age just caught up with a 32-year-old Satterfield. He was no match for the youth and vigor of Carter, who's 22.

Almost from the start, Satterfield was hanging on to avoid Carter's sharp and flicking left jabs and combinations to the body.

The victory was the second for Carter over Satterfield. Carter won March 21 and drew with Satterfield Feb. 28, both in Miami.

Carter's record now is 19 wins, 2 losses and 2 draws.

Carter weighed 194, Satterfield 185 1/2.

Junior Baer, son of former heavyweight champion Max Baer who won title in 1934 by knocking out Primo Carnera, is studying law at Santa Clara.
